Solo Traveller?

It's interesting that Stuff had a report yesterday from Reuters claiming that solo travellers are now getting a better deal on their travel costs -www.stuff.co.nz/travel/3260063/Solo-travellers-get-a-better-deal.

Sadly, Stuff then went and reported today that Air NZ have launched their new bed-seat for economy class travellers (www.stuff.co.nz/travel/3264221/Just-relax-and-enjoy-your-flight) which is "aimed at couples and families prepared to spend $1400 extra". So, if you are on your own and you want to sleep lying down on your long haul flight, you'll have to pay $10,000 for business class!
